
HR Capability Package

Introduction

To help SMEs meet their HR capability needs, SPRING Singapore and the Singapore Workforce Development Agency (WDA) jointly developed an HR Capability Package to improve and strengthen SMEs' human resource management capabilities by addressing HR gaps and promoting good HR practices.

The Package covers six HR areas, namely:

- a. Manpower Planning
Assessing current workforce capabilities, demographics and determining future workforce requirements.
- b. Recruitment and Selection
Soliciting applicants and assessing their suitability to fill recently-vacated or newly-created positions.
- c. Compensation and Benefits
Designing and managing market-competitive compensation and benefits strategies and programmes.
- d. Performance Management
Maintaining or improving employee job performance through objective-setting, appraisal, coaching and feedback.
- e. Learning and Development
Planning for and conducting activities that develop employee capabilities, knowledge and know-how to meet business, organisational and individual needs.
- f. Career Management
Establishing policies and processes which enable employees to set career objectives and determine appropriate educational and developmental programmes to further develop their skills to achieve short-term or long-term career objectives.

For each of the areas the package will cover the following:

- a. Framework and key guidelines on how to execute the HR activities and functions;
- b. Tips and pointers on how to manage specific HR matters; and
- c. Tools and templates which companies can use immediately, or with some customisation to meet company needs
